

Narberth Library May Launch Great Books Program This Year

The Narberth Public Library is contemplating establishment of a Great Books Program, it was disclosed following the monthly meeting of the library trustees Monday night.

Purpose of the program, which was originated by the University of Chicago, is to have a group of interested persons read the great works of literature, such as the Bible, Shakespeare, Plato and similar writings, then meet for discussion of their reading.

Dr. Allan G. Chester, president of the Library Board, asked for volunteers to serve as leaders for such a study group. Persons who wish to volunteer should register immediately with Mrs. Helen Kirkbride, Narberth librarian, as a

Funds Received To Pay Balance On Ambulance

But Medical Corps Says
Local Contributions
Were Disappointing

With four weeks of their annual drive for funds behind them, the Volunteer Medical Service Corps of Narberth has received enough to pay off the $2,000 balance due on the new ambulance purchased earlier this year.

Thomas Merkle, secretary of the organization, stated this week, however, that contributions from Narberth residents were far below what had been expected. "Most of our contributions," he said, "have been received from residents living in nearby communities such as Penn Valley, Merion and Wynnewood."

Merkle added, "Even with the excellent returns we have received so far, our expenses have increased to such an extent that we will need a good deal more money to keep going."

"Our calls average 20 to 25 per month, whereas they used to average 11. Last year, for example, we received 100 more calls than the year before."

"We must, in addition, pay more for laundry, gas and oil, telephones and our insurance has increased triple over previous years."

The Narberth Corps will act as host at a meeting of the newly organized Pennsylvania First Aid Council, to be held at the Narberth Baptist Church, October 25, at 8 P. M.

Guest speaker at the meeting will be Dr. Frank E. Boston, of Lansdale. Chairman will be Robert Porter, of Croyden, Bucks County.

NARBERTH SCHOOL

By KATHRYN NELSON
Sports have been in the spotlight this week and last, Narberth School's football team made a gallant try to win their game with Conshohocken but failed, losing the game, 10 to 13.

George Barclay, a halfback for Narberth, unfortunately broke his shoulder blade while trying to help Narberth's chances of winning.

Narberth's next game will be on October 20 against Abington. We hope they will come out on top.

The girls' sports also came to a close. The Gray hockey team defeated the Reds by a score of 4 to 0. The next hockey game will be October 19th. May the best team win.

The Sun Dial staff is sponsoring a drive for subscriptions to the school paper. The room with the most subscriptions to the Sun Dial will be presented the banner of honor. Come on, get your subscription now. Narberth pupils.

The members of the student council were formally sworn in by Mr. Drennen in assembly Friday, October 15. The president, Bill Hoerschle, made a speech of acceptance. Vice President John Bonner and Secretary Bette Lou Oberdorfer were also sworn in.

The display in the museum case this week consists of a group of one-room houses made by the eighth grade girls for their home economics class under Miss Taylor's direction.

JUST for the RECORD ...

Narberth's Parent-Teacher Association is decidedly due for a pat on the back for bringing to the Borough a speaker of the caliber of William E. Haskell, the New York newspaperman, who spoke Monday night at the P. T. A. meeting. But the school auditorium, where the meeting was held, should have been filled to overflowing. His constructive, sane talk was enlightening and heartening in these days of international bickering and war rumors.

Just chalk it up to an over-enthusiastic press agent. A lot of Borough residents were more than puzzled when they read in the daily papers this week that Lois Schenck, of 222 Lantwyn Lane, Narberth, had given up the stage for a career as a shoe-shine girl. Lois, 24-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schenck, was quoted as saying she likes the work because she enjoys meeting people. Checking with Mrs. Schenck, we discover it's all a publicity stunt connected with her stage career in New York. Lois, who is a Lower Merion High graduate, has appeared in several Broadway productions.

CLUB CAPERS ... Vases and vases of flowers on the tables and stage made the Narberth Women's Club luncheon, Tuesday afternoon, one of the most colorful events of the season. On the speakers' table was one of the cleverest arrangements we've seen in a long time.

A gourd shaped like a swan with raisin eyes and hollowed in the center to hold a large bunch of yellow and orange marigolds. Credit for the clever arrangement goes to Mrs. William Lakeman, who is chairman of the club's Conservation and Garden Department.

To top it off each guest received a corsage tied in fall colors. Understand Mrs. Samuel J. McCartney had to miss the New York Herald Tribune's forum, even though she had the hard-to-get tickets.

The junior club membership was represented by Mrs. Robert Sigel, president. Hope Mrs. Karl Williams, who is recuperating at home following a minor operation at Bryn Mawr Hospital, will be able to be up in time for her education committee meeting Tuesday afternoon. The Junior Club fashion show this evening promises to be one of the highlights of the season. Credit for hard job, well done, goes to Lita Ovalle and Cele Conway and their industrious committee.

FBI Agent Is League Speaker

Fingerprinting Is Topic
At Men's Meeting

From its fingerprint files, now numbering more than 109,000,000 prints, the Federal Bureau of Investigation can locate any wanted set of prints in three minutes.

How this is done, and other facts of interest about the FBI, was described by Bernard Marren, special agent of the Bureau, at a fellowship meeting of the Men's League of the Ardmore Presbyterian Church Tuesday night.

Marren brought out that although no two sets of fingerprints are alike, the system of classifying prints has been worked out so that a few punches on a card serve as a key to a particular print. When search is made for a print corresponding with that found at the scene of a crime, it is a simple matter to take out all the cards of a particular classification and run them through a sorting machine to locate the card desired.

Marren said that each year thousands of criminals were identified by their fingerprints. In addition, amnesia victims are identified, as well as persons killed in airplane crashes; on whom there was no other mark of identification.

The fingerprint files were greatly enlarged during the war, when every service man and every employee of a war plant was fingerprinted. At one time the FBI was receiving and classifying 150,000 sets of fingerprints a day.

Other speakers on the program were Dr. Allan MacLachlan Frew, pastor, and George Hosterman, who spoke on behalf of the Community Chest. Members of Troop 1, Boy Scouts, put on a demonstration of first aid to a person who had touched a live wire. Samuel Gulick and Kennard Gregory led the men in community singing.

Ample Parking Space Available, Police Report

Check of Business Area
Shown 30 to 60
Empty Spaces

There's plenty of parking space in the Narberth business district, Borough policemen reported this week.

The policemen's report, the result of a survey conducted during the past week at the request of Burgess Richard L. Miller, showed that during the hours of 11 A. M. and 3 P. M. a check of empty parking spaces on metered streets showed that from 30 to 60 vacant spaces were available.

The survey was made from October 11 to October 16 on Haverford, Narberth, Essex and Forrest Aves. Windsor Ave. was not included in the survey.

Miller stated this week that he asked that the survey be made after complaints concerning the lack of parking space in the business district of the Borough was reported to Council by Narberth merchants.

The businessmen's complaints were presented to Council at the conference held by Borough Council before each monthly meeting.

Miller added that the survey was taken at 11 A. M. and 3 P. M. because those hours were judged to be the busiest for merchants.

A complete report of the survey will be presented to Council at its November meeting, and to the Business Council in time for their meeting October 25.

USSR Lacking in War Essentials, Says Haskell

Blames Current Scare
On a Few Selfish
Broadcasters

The possibility of war between the United States and Russia was scouted Monday night by William E. Haskell, noted newspaperman who spoke at a meeting of the Narberth Parent-Teachers Association.

"You will never see this nation at war with Russia," he said, "because Russia has too much to occupy it internally and because it is lacking in those fundamentals which are necessary to wage a successful war."

Haskell, who is assistant to the president of the New York Herald Tribune and a well-known lecturer, was introduced by Sterling Chain, P-T. A. program chairman. His talk was entitled, "What's Going On?"

"Those who are in a position to know the facts," he declared, "have said that there is no possibility of war in the near future. They have said this, not to allay our fears, but through honest conviction."

Haskell blamed the war scare on a "certain few broadcasters who seek self-glorification by arousing the people." These broadcasters, he said, have no sources of information not available to everyone who reads a good newspaper carefully.

"Here we are in the atomic age," the speaker continued. "We have the miracles of medicine and science and we consider ourselves advanced in civilization. But are we? When two nations don't agree, instead of sitting down and discussing the situation, we hear the distant roll of drums."

The reason, he said, is that we are so young a people, and our research has gone ahead faster than our ethics.

"In our lives, we are in contact with five generations. Yet there have been only 40 generations since Biblical times and only 200 generations ago, our ancestors were cave-men."

Commenting on the Berlin crisis, Haskell charged that the Russians imposed the blockade in order to relinquish it later as a bargaining tool in order to share in the riches of Germany. He called the Marshall Plan "not a matter of charity on our part ... but a matter of good business."

"The United States," he said, "is the most productive industrial nation in the world. If we do not have Europe as a customer, we shall be poverty-stricken."

And Communism, he reminded his audience, thrives on destitution. Supporting his theory that Russia cannot wage war successfully, Haskell summarized the geographical and other factors which he believes will prevent her from embarking on full-scale aggression. Of her 197 million population, he pointed out, 60 percent are wandering nomadic tribes and only 7,800,000 are members of the Communist party. At a conservative estimate, he added, another 14 million are in slave labor camps.

"Geographically," Haskell said, the country offers little. The central part is vast and arid, while most of the northern part is arctic. The Ukraine, on which Russia depends for food, has twice suffered the scorched earth policy and, more recently, a long drought.

As for its industrial qualifications for war, he continued, Russia lacks the technique for steel production that we possess. Under a new 15-year plan they hope to be producing 60 million tons of steel a year by 1961. In contrast, our steel production last year was 84 million tons.

Turning from Russia to the United Nations, Haskell called the U. N. Charter "the most thoughtful and far-reaching document ever written." The man in the street, he said, cannot comprehend the U. N. because he regards it as one unit.

"It is not," he explained; "it is six great organizations designed to function in a world of peace, and this world is not yet at peace."

The P-T. A. meeting was opened with the invocation delivered by the Rev. Cleus Sent, pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, of Narberth.

Mrs. G. Odell Fletcher, membership chairman, reported a membership of 285, and reports were also submitted by Donald Drain, treasurer, and Mrs. Murray Eberly, budget committee chairman.

Engle Taylor, of Cynwyd, presented two trumpet selections. He was accompanied at the piano by his wife.

AZTEC AQUEDUCTS

Water was brought through aqueducts to cities and towns in Mexico more than nine hundred years ago.

A high degree of civilization existed in Central America at a time when North America was an absolute wilderness inhabited only by savage Indians.

The Aztecs were early inhabitants of Mexico. Although they were in some respects a primitive people, they possessed, however, an advanced knowledge of architecture and engineering.

When the Spaniards conquered Mexico they brought with them a realization of the necessity and importance of securing a plentiful supply of water for their cities and towns. And so they, too, built great aqueducts and reservoirs such as you see in this picture.

Archaeological research has shown that, even antedating the pages of recorded history, the securing of a pure water supply was recognized as necessary for the development of mankind.

This is the eleventh of a series of narratives which graphically tell the story of water. Look for the next installment in this paper in an early issue.

Congressman McConnell Reports On the Work of the 80th Congress

(Editor's Note: The actions of the 80th Congress have become one of the principal issues of the 1948 political campaign throughout the country. In his talks at meetings and rallies, Montgomery County's Congressman Samuel K. McConnell, Jr., of Wynnewood, is currently giving his constituents a first-hand report on this important subject. In an effort to bring it to the attention of every voter in this area, we have prepared a condensed version of the Congressman's report. The following is the last of three installments of the report.)

HIGH PRICES

Inflation, which is identified and emphasized by the high prices prevailing today means in its simplest terms that there is too much money in circulation in relation to the goods available for buying. The three main factors causing inflation are: (1) an increase in the quantity of supply of money; (2) the velocity of money, which refers to the rapidity with which it is used for purchases; and (3) the relationship between the amount of goods and services available and the supply and velocity of money. In 1933 when economic activity was at a low level, the New Deal Democrat Administration embarked on a deliberate inflationary policy. It was called reflation and its object was to raise prices. By the latter part of 1941, it was stated that $21 billion had been spent to raise prices to the 1926 level. In December, 1941, we entered the global war and huge quantities of money were spent. Wars are always inflationary. Some idea of the expansion that took place can be obtained from the following figures. The total volume of currency (pocketbook money and bank deposits) circulating amounted in June, 1939, to $36.7 billion. This rose to $110.2 billion in April, 1947. Congress passed an amended OPA bill designed to stimulate needed production, and to provide for the orderly removal of controls when certain conditions prevailed. Against the advice of its leaders, for Congress was still under Truman vetoed the bill and there were no controls. The abrupt ending and uncertainty demoralized markets. After 30 days a new bill was passed by Congress and signed by the President. Shortly thereafter, the President's own De-Control Board removed controls on dairy products and grains.

The effort to control meat was a complete failure, and President Truman removed those controls prior to the 1946 election. After the election, he took off almost all other controls before the first Republican-controlled Congress could convene in January, 1947.

President Truman submitted a program to the special session of Congress to provide social reforms and to stop inflation. It contained a mixture of suggestions which if adopted would have increased expenditures and increased the inflationary pressure. His proposals in many cases would stop inflation by pouring gasoline on the fires of inflation.

Therefore, Congress rejected or postponed action on his spending proposals and put an end to deficit spending by balancing the budget.

We authorized re-imposition of controls over consumer credit.

We authorized the Federal Reserve to increase the reserves against deposits of the member banks of the System.

The purposes of the two Acts was to curb bank loans which expand the money in circulation. In the past year, bank loans had jumped by $7 billion to a record total of $45 billion.

I want to earnestly and sincerely emphasize one thing. It will not be pleasant or easy to halt the inflationary spiral and lower prices. Each person must search his heart

I have tried to give you a picture of the major actions of the 80th Congress. Time will not permit me to cover the entire record, which is surprisingly "do-nothing" by one of its enemies. I'll trust the common sense and the fairness of the American people in their judgment of the results.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Montgomery County Commissioners Frederick C. Peters, Foster C. Hill, and Raymond K. The said lot is situated in the Township of Lower Merion, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, and is known as Lot No. 635 Marywater's Ford & Maple Hill Pk. Senior High Notes

Everybody wants to get into the Act! In this election year, it seems no one can resist electing officers. The latest group is the junior class of Lower Merion. In an election held recently, the class chose as its leaders for the rest of the year: Bill Gallihue, president; Baylis Thomas, vice-president; Mary Ann Miller, secretary; and Dick Gordon, treasurer. They'll be aided in weighty matters by Oliver E. Robinson, sponsor of the class.

Bill Gallihue, besides being treasurer of the Sophomore class last year, is a three-letter athlete. He plays regularly on the varsity football, wrestling and track teams. In the latter, he broke District and Suburban records last spring in the javelin throw. This year he is also Sergeant-at-Arms of the Student Council.

Baylis Thomas was vice-president of the Sophomore class and is now playing his second season as goalie for the varsity soccer team.

In addition to her new post as junior class secretary, Mary Ann Miller also serves as treasurer of the Student Council. An active member of the Hi-Y, Student Council, and girls' hockey team in both her sophomore and junior years, she has this year added the Bridge Club to her list of activities.

Dick Gordon, president of the 1947-48 sophomore class, played last year on the J. V. football and baseball teams, but was forced to withdraw from the varsity football team this season because of an injured leg. However, he will be captain of this year's wrestling team.

Added to the already-large list of activities open to Lower Merion students, there are four entirely new clubs this year. The Electroplating Club, the Weight-Lifting Club, the Cerw Club and the Chess Club have all been sanctioned by the Student Council and George H. Gilbert, principal.

For those students with a sweet-tooth (is there any one who hasn't one?), the girls' Hi-Y is operating a candy store every afternoon for half an hour after school.

Members of the Hi-Y who will do the selling during the first quarter of the year are: Mary Ann Kirk, Sue Sproule, Nancy Leith, Jo Smedley, Mary Ann Miller, "Stookie" Skelton, Joyce Kempf, Jeni Fressa, Barbara Boist, and Ann Nelson.

Bob Walking, '49, recently won a three-day trip to New York to see behind the scenes life of the city, through his appearance on "Weekend With Music," a program conducted by Deems Taylor and presented over CBS. He is one of four local high school students chosen to make the trip as the result of his answers to questions concerning the beginning of his interest in music and what he would like to see and hear in New York.

A group of 84 young people of

College Whirl

Dear Dottie:

Took time a week or so ago from saying goodbye to people leaving for college in order that I could go out to Villanova stadium and watch the Lower Merion-Overbrook football game. The result was exciting and the game was exciting and would have been a lot of fun—if it had been played in the afternoon, when a high school football game should be played, instead of at night.

Johnny Coats, of Ardmore, was at the game, and was looking forward to starting classes at Bucknell. John is one of 550 freshmen there. Walt Sparks was complaining that he shouldn't have taken the time away from his studies—Penn Law School opened the day after Labor Day and Walt, who will graduate in December, is up to his ears with work. Ex-LM football and basketball great Dick Whiting told me how surprised he was when he was elected president of the senior class at Wesleyan University last spring.

Bobbie Adams, who was quite popular in Rosemont until she moved to Swarthmore, is home after a pleasant summer at Camp Oneka. She's studying at the Lankenau School in Germantown. And Narberthite Carlo Mariani, Jr., sent me a postcard from Albuquerque, where he started as a chemical engineering student at the University of New Mexico. Carlo was a football star at Lower Merion before his graduation in 1945, and has had two years at the Pennsylvania Area College in Philadelphia since being discharged from the Navy.

Janice Clugh has started her sophomore year at Wooster College, Wooster, Ohio. She told me what a big help the "College Special" tickets which the Pennsylvania Railroad is offering college students are in keeping down the high cost of college living. The Pennsylvania Railroad is selling special round-trip tickets to students and professors which do not have the usual three-month time limit but are, instead, good for coming back at Christmas, at spring vacation or at the end of the college year. The saving amounts to $16.07 for students bound for Chicago, and other savings are in proportion.

Bill Watts began work at the University of Chicago recently and I was a bit puzzled when he wrote me he was starting in the third year of the College there, since knew he only graduated from Lower Merion this June. It seems that Chicago has a four-year course leading to the Bachelor's Degree as is customary, but they permit qualified students to begin the course upon completion of their sophomore year in school. So that by finishing at LM, Bill has, in effect, also finished his first two years of college. He has been taking placement tests under an unusual system by which, if he shows college-level competence in any tested subject, that subject is eliminated from his requirements for a degree. And Chicago does not tabulate credits, as do most colleges; instead he can take the comprehensive exam for his degree whenever he has studied enough to be prepared for the examination. It all sounds like a very interesting and stimulating

L. Merion Plans Amusement Tax

10 Percent Levy Being Considered in Township

Narberth residents, and others, who attend amusements in Lower Merion Township next year may have to pay a 10 percent tax on admissions.

Lower Merion Township Commissioners Wednesday night authorized their solicitor to draw up an ordinance whereby the tax will be levied on the gross proceeds of all amusements. Amusements were defined as anything to which admission is charged. This will include movies, benefits, organization meetings, sports events, club meetings, fairs, bazaars, dances, skating rinks and all other similar events.

The tax is being levied under Act 481, passed at the last session of the Pennsylvania Legislature, whereby municipalities are permitted to tax anything not already taxed by the state.

Lower Merion Township, like many other municipalities, the commissioners explained, is faced with the rising cost of operation in all departments of government.

The township real estate tax is now ten mills, which is the maximum real estate tax allowable for general purposes. In order to produce additional revenue the commissioners have already imposed a one-half mill tax on real estate for parks and recreation purposes. There are several other special purpose taxes allowable but the aggregate revenue which they would produce would probably be insufficient to meet the township's needs.

Commissioners said the additional revenue is needed for major improvements which have been long deferred such as roads, highways and storm drains.

In many communities throughout the state, including Haverford Township, Lower Merion's next door neighbor, a tax has been imposed under Act 481 on transfers of real estate. Abington Township, where Willow Grove Amusement Park is located, was one of the first in this area to take advantage of this legislation and impose an amusement tax.

The Lower Merion ordinance will be advertised according to law in a local newspaper and a date set for a public hearing on the proposal, before final action is taken by the Board.

He is survived by a daughter, Miss Edella M. Dougherty, and a son, Edward C. Dougherty, of N. Wynnewood Rd., Wynnewood. Services and burial will be held today in Washington, D. C.

DEWEY GETS THINGS DONE

Look What a Great Job He Did in New York State

No Job Discrimination

By laws enacted under Governor Dewey, workers are protected in their right to employment regardless of religious creed, race, or national origin.

Law Stops Rent Gouging

New York State, under Governor Dewey's leadership, was the only state which took rent control action in advance of the emergency to protect millions of tenants.

Equal Pay for Women

By law New York women are paid equally with men for equal work. Minimum wage was raised in laundry, beauty services, dry-cleaning, hotel and restaurant industries.

Housing for 160,000

New York leads the nation in slum clearance and low income public housing. Dewey's program will free almost 160,000 people from unsafe, unsanitary dwellings.

$400 Million Vets Bonus

New York paid a veterans bonus of 400 million dollars. By ten year financing—instead of the usual forty years—taxpayers will save $140,000,000 in interest.

Vets Apartments

In addition, New York has provided for veteran housing and college housing for veterans and their families numbering 61,280. New York was first with large scale emergency veterans housing.

Tax Relief for Farmers

New York State farmers and other rural taxpayers saved millions when the state assumed the costs of snow removal and right of way on state highways.

Personal Income Tax Cut 40%

Governor Dewey's sound fiscal policy enabled the state to cut taxes and reduce the state debt, and at the same time increase state services and build up surpluses.

State Debt Cut 27% in Four Years

In the first four years under Governor Dewey, New York State reduced its debt by $136,000,000 or 27%. Dewey believes in pay-as-you-go.

Surplus Built to $673,000,000

A surplus amounting to $673,000,000 was built up under Governor Dewey and put aside for post-war construction and tax stabilization reserves.

Minimum Wage Law Extended

More than 525,000 retail store employees are now covered. Also coverage under the Workmen's Compensation was extended to include restaurant and domestic workers.

KNOW YOUR STATE

Increase in Pa.'s Population

According to a new estimate by the Bureau of the Census Pennsylvania has increased its population by 789,000 since April 1, 1940. The total population, excluding Armed Forces overseas, as of July 1, 1948, is now estimated at 10,689,000—an increase of eight percent in the past eight years.

How great a chance this means in the population picture is shown by the fact that in the ten years between 1930 and 1940 the State's growth was only 268,830—an increase of 2.8 percent. The remarkable increase since 1940 has many consequences for the people of the State.

Since Pennsylvania's growth is largely due to the high birth rate prevailing over the past six years, the increased need for school facilities occasioned by the much larger number of children now approaching school age may make necessary very shortly an increase in the number of teachers in elementary grades. If there is no important outward migration during the next few years, there will eventually result a need for increased accommodations in our high schools and finally in our colleges.

Outward migration does not appear to be likely to change Pennsylvania's population picture, or the problems presented by the need of facilities for nearly 10,700,000 people in a State which had only 9,900,000 people in 1940. Many states in the Middle West and on the Pacific Coast have recorded a phenomenal growth in the past eight years. It is probable that these states are very close to their present ability to absorb any further increases of population, and that Pennsylvanians reaching maturity during the next decade will find the opportunities in their own State to be equal to, or superior to, those in any other part of our Nation.

Pennsylvania is particularly fortunate in that its growth, which is now percentage greater than that of the State of New York, has been gradual and well controlled and is permitting the opportunity and the time for readjustment. That this is true is indicated by the fact that the State's percentage of the total United States wages in manufacturing has now turned upward more sharply than that of any other large industrial state, and stands at 10 percent of the National debt. By way of contrast, it may be pointed out that California, the third largest state, with a population of over 10,000,000 and a gain of more than 3,100,000 in the past eight years, had last year an industrial payroll of only $2,423,000,000, as compared with $4,219,000,000 for Pennsylvania.

There are today few spots anywhere where a young man or woman from our Commonwealth is more likely to find so sound an opportunity in agriculture, business, door in the great cities, the small towns, or the fertile countryside of Pennsylvania.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

E. H. Jennings, Jr., president of the Pi Beta Chapter of the Phalanx Fraternity of the Main Line Y and a State vice-president or Pro Primus of the organization representing the Eastern section of the State spoke before a group of young men interested in organizing a chapter at the Norristown YMCA last Monday evening.

The local group held its regular meeting Tuesday evening at the Main Line Y. Members and their dates will attend a Barn Dance given by the Coatesville chapter Saturday evening, October 23.

Chairman of the athletic committee, William Seery, has announced that the gym will be used by the Phalanx members every Wednesday beginning at 9 P. M.

Mrs. J. E. Bertles, of the Main Line staff, attended an executive committee meeting recently in New York of the Fifth National Hi-Y Congress which was held last summer.

Monthly meetings of the Young Adult Forum of the Main Line Y began this Monday evening.

"The United Nations" was the topic of discussion at this time. A speaker will be provided by the United Nations Council of Philadelphia on "The Constitutional Service of the United Nations," followed by a film trip. Wayne Roth, program chairman in making the arrangement stated that many interesting programs are being arranged for the year.

Alfred B. Howe, of 38 Woodcroft Rd., Oakmont, director of the Havertown Bible School, has been named instructor of teacher-training methods for the inter-denominational Good News Club meetings which are held Thursday evenings at the J. R. Miller Church, Upper Darby.

Havertown, Ivy And Eagles in Grid League Tie

Havertown A. A., Berwyn Eagles and Ivy A. C. remained deadlocked for the Main Line League football season last week, with the Eagles remaining in the triumvirate even though they had an open date.

Havertown overwhelmed Gladwyn, 20-0, for its second victory in three tries. Ivy remained unbeaten by nosing out Radnor, 7-6, for its second victory, while Bryn Mawr sent Marple-Newton down to its third straight loss, 19-0.

In games this Sunday, Havertown will meet Radnor at the Veterans Park field in Brookline, Marple-Newton tackles Berwyn at the latter's field, and Gladwyn meets Overbrook Ivy at 70th St. and Lansdowne Ave.

Craig Bergin and Ray Giuliani carried the offensive burden for Havertown against Gladwyn, between them accounting for all three touchdowns. Bergin bulled over from the five in the first drive, after Center Al Davis had blocked a Gladwyn punt on the 20, and Giuliani capped a 40-yard drive in the second, after Bergin and Jack Webb had shared the ball-carrying duties.

League standings:

Team	W	L	T	Pts.
Eagles	2	0	0	4
Ivy	2	0	0	4
Havertown	2	1	0	4
Radnor	1	1	0	2
Gladwyn	1	2	0	2

L. Merion Invades Ridley Twp.; Radnor Is Host to Havertown

Lower Merion High's Don Shaver (45) and Charlie Wilson (24) were just a bit too late to help their unidentified teammate to gain additional yardage against Havertown High School in the game played last Saturday. The game, played on the Havertown High field, ended in favor of Lower Merion, 34-0. The Havertown High player assisting in the tackle is Dick D'Augustino (62).

Lower Merion escaped without injuries in its brisk battle with Havertown, and the Fords too will be in fine physical condition for Radnor. Despite the Aces' apparently easy win, the game was hotly contested.

Havertown's hopelessly outmanned team made its biggest bid on opening kickoff, when Dave Dilks took Don Shaver's boot on the Fords' goal line, cut for the boundaries and sprinted 60 yards before being overhauled. However, Havertown adherents' visions of victory ended abruptly when four smashes failed to advance Bill Stinson's charges and L. M. took over, never to be headed.

Bill Gallinhe, the pile-driving power runner, and State Javelin champion, touched off L. M.'s drive toward its initial touchdown soon after, sprinting 72 yards deep into Havertown territory. The Aces failed to score as a result of that run, but an intercepted pass immediately after accounted for a touchdown, Gallinhe going over from the 11.

Again in the opening period, Quarterback Joe Callahan tossed a 30-yard pass to Bill Buck, left end, and the latter fled 10 yards to a touchdown. L. M. added another touchdown in the second period after Shaver had blocked and recovered a 20-yard run after making the seven, Callahan crashed over for the score.

Lower Merion marched 32 yards to a third-period score, Charlie Wilson going over, and a pass, Paul Kerns to Al Sears, accounted for the final six-pointner.

How About Some Variety In Touchdown Conversion?

Just over 25 years ago the college football rule-makers at last realized that the goal after touchdown was about the most anti-climactic play in sport, and converted it into something more elastic and varied.

Until then, the kick for goal was automatic, following the touchdown. When a player crossed the goal line he continued running and fighting off defenders, trying to plant the ball behind the goal posts. By doing so, he gave his team a free kick at the goal from direct in front of it.

If the touchdown - maker crossed the goal and was thrown in a corner of the field, his team had the choice of punting out toward the center, with the kick made from the point at which the ball was caught, or bringing it straight out into the field from where he crossed the line, with the goal tried from the resulting angle.

In any case, the team got a free kick at the goal. The team scored with a kick under the posts and at the instant the man holding the ball for placement touched the ball to the ground, the defenders were allowed to rush forward in a hopeless effort to throw their hands up and block it.

Then the rule-makers set about encouraging something besides the routine kick. They allowed the ball to be placed on the 3-yard line (it has since been advanced to the 2-yard line, and ruled that the point could be scored by a goal kick, a rush or a pass over the goal line.

This was a decided improvement and for a while, teams with imagination capitalized on these possibilities. I recall a game played the first season the new rule was put in: W. and J. won a thriller from Lafayette in New York (both were big-time then) by completing a surprise pass for the winning point.

But except for rare and usually improvised variations, coaches have concentrated on kicked goals as the most conservative, safe way to convert. The point after touchdown has become as stylized and stereotyped as it ever was back before the rule was changed.

Now has come along another reaction to this play—a feeling of unrest among many fans at tie games and the fact that football rules provide no manner of breaking ties, and a strong discontent over one-point deficits.

The fans feel, and are absolutely right, that it is not quite fair for

SPORTS SCENE

By BOB JOHNSTON

Phil Marion, Ridley Township High coach, usually is distinguished for his football acumen. Apparently a level-headed chap, he consistently turns out formidable football teams at the Delaware County school.

This year's team is no exception: Ridley Township will be boasting a record of five straight triumphs when it meets Lower Merion Saturday on the former's field. But Phil for some reason seems to have slipped a cog—he predicted after watching Lower Merion in action this season that unbeaten Ridley Township would win by four touchdowns.

And that, it might be added, is something that just hasn't happened to Lower Merion in quite a spell. At any rate, Saturday's game should be well worth watching.

Take a huge handful of Lower Merion High products, add a sprinkling of ex-Havertown High athletes, and toss in a few Philadelphia Catholic League gridders for good measure. Add a few capable coaches, mix well, and season with experience.

The finished product? An undefeated football team—one which has nailed down 14 consecutive victories over the past two seasons in independent competition. That's the Narberth Blue Jays, high-flying birds who play home games at the Narberth Playground gridiron Sunday afternoons.

Last season, the Blue Jays gave up only 18 points while scoring 181 and 10 straight triumphs.

Oxford Falcons were beaten in the 1948 opener, 6-0. Then followed a 2-0 victory over Darby Eagles, 20-0 over Olney Wolves, and last Sunday, a 13-0 win against South Philadelphia Dons.

The club is coached by Henry Spinelli, ex-Lower Merion center who later attended Penn; Folger Mestichelli, another L. M. product, and Vincent D'Angelo, line coach-manager, from Central High.

Lower Merion graduates on the team include Orlando Riboli, Henry Di Fabio, Frank Bruno and Carlo Ettore, backs; John Dorsaneo, John Angelina, George (Ears) Constantine, Dick Filippone and Saby Delmore on the line.

Among the former Havertown athletes are Dominic Falcone, Al Farina, Al Pala and Harold (Gooby) Zinni. Two Radnor representatives are on the roster: Wilmer Ageldinger and Andy Mascia, fullbacks.

From West Catholic and St. Thomas More High, the Blue Jays have recruited Tom Joyce, Dick Finnerty, Jimmy Joyce and Jack Joyce. Joyce, it seems, is everywhere, tra la, tra la.

Two broken feet in early games—Bobby Giuliani, ex-L. M. ace, injured against Darby, and Jackie Brogan, a St. Thomas More alumnus.

Sig More Games For Mighty Mites

Six more games will round out the Havertown Township Elementary School football schedule, following yesterday's game between Manoa and Llanerch at the former's field.

Next Tuesday, Oct. 26, Chestnutworld will meet Oakmont at Ardmore Ave. field, while Manoa invades Brookline Oct. 28. In the initial game next month, Oakmont and Manoa will meet at Oakmont.

Other grammar school games in November include 4, Llanerch vs. Brookline at Veterans' Park; 9, Chestnutworld vs. Llanerch at Ardmore Ave. gridiron, and 10, Brookline at Oakmont.

Officials during these battles between the mighty mites include LeRoy Sauder and Fred Ingram, of Havertown Junior High; Richard DiBattista, George E. Mingle and John Greer.

Mrs. Lafore Victor In Club Skeet Shoot

Mrs. J. A. Lafore, Jr., of Havertown, women's national skeet champion, captured the Sandy Run Skeet Club championship, and the women's high gun trophy Sunday at Sandy Run, posting a 97 in each event.

C. R. Brinkley, of Neffsville, Pa., won high gun trophy with 99 breaks in the men's event, and J. T. Cosentino, Peterson, led in Class A.

Villanova 150's Bow

Princeton University's football team overpowered the Villanova College gridders in a 150-pound league game Saturday at Princeton, 42-0. The Tiger lightweight scored in every period.

The victory enabled the Narberth team, composed mainly of former Lower Merion athletes with a sprinkling of Havertown High products, to remain unbeaten.

Narberth's Jays Seek 15th Win Sunday Here

Seeking their 15th consecutive football victory over the past two seasons, Narberth Blue Jays will meet Northeast Dukes on the Narberth Playground gridiron this Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock.

The Blue Jays, coached by Henry Spinelli, Folger Mestichelli and Vincent D'Angelo, ran their win streak to 14 last week with a 13-0 decision over South Philadelphia Dons. Both touchdowns were tallied in the second half.

A spectacular 30-yard pass, from Orlando Riboli to left end Jack Joyce, and the latter's equally exciting 20-yard run after making the catch, accounted for Narberth's initial touchdown. Tom Joyce's try for extra point missed by inches.

In the fourth period, the Blue Jays advanced to the Don's 20 where, after two attempts, Wilmer Ageldinger, crashed through the invaders' midsection and scampered 19 yards to score. This time, Joyce converted from placement.

The victory enabled the Narberth team, composed mainly of former Lower Merion athletes with a sprinkling of Havertown High products, to remain unbeaten.

Westgate Hills Defeats Loretta For 13th In Row

Faced with an open date following Sunday's 7-0 victory over a stubborn Loretta, Westgate Hills A. C. unbeaten football team won't return to the vars level Wednesday night, Oct. 27, when Holmesburg will be met at the Philadelphia field.

Westgate garnered its 13th consecutive victory over a two-year span and its third straight in Sandlot Sports Association middleweight competition Sunday only after an exciting contest.

The Havertown Township team pushed over the game's only touchdown in the third quarter, but before that, blithely kicked away initial scoring chances.

Coach Leo Schwartz's charges were given a golden opportunity at the very outset when Center Denny Nicholson recovered his own kickoff on the Loretta 15. But a 15-yard penalty set back the homesters and Loretta gained possession.

When the invaders attempted to quick kick soon after, Bill Ware broke through to block it. Both Ware and Bill Shea pounced on the ball on the Loretta line, but a clipping penalty again called a halt to the fillers' threat.

After a scoreless first half, Westgate finally rolled to victory when Jack Gottsalk smashed over from the two to cap a sustained drive. Jules Perico's pass interceptions featured for Westgate during the first two periods.

Ross Cracks Own Villanova Record

Browning Ross, U. S. Olympic star, set a new Villanova cross-country record Saturday, but the Wildcat barriers dropped a 25-30 decision to New York University over the Men Line course.

Ross covered the five-mile course in 26:33 to finish 100 yards ahead of NYU's Armond Osterberg. Villanova's George Thompson was third, Ross bettered his own mark by 22 seconds in winning.

In the freshman meet, Villanova yearlings also lost by 20-25 to NYU, with Art Klepper second for the Main Liners.

$15,000 Fire Sweeps Wynnewood Home; Narberth Fireman Hurt

When Dr. and Mrs. John W. Davis returned to their home at 433 Shortridge Drive, Wynnewood, late Sunday night, they found Narberth firemen extinguishing a blaze which had caused an estimated $15,000 damage to the house and contents.

One of the firemen, Ernest Jenkins, 45 of Sabine and Essex Aves., Narberth, suffered a laceration of the right foot while fighting the flames. He was treated at Bryn Mawr Hospital.

Of unexplained origin, the fire apparently started in the second-floor bedroom over the garage, according to Lower Merion Fire Marshal Harvey W. Benson, who made the damage estimate.

He said the flames then spread into the attic and joists under the asbestos roof and down through the walls into the garage. Actual fire damage, he said, was confined to the bedroom, the stairs leading to the attic and the attic itself, all of which were burned out; and to one wall of the garage.

Smoke, heat and water damage was extensive throughout the rest of the house, Benson said, and the furniture, clothing and other contents were ruined.

The fire was discovered by a neighbor, who heard several explosions shortly before 10 P. M., and went outside to see what was happening. Seeing flames shooting from the windows of the Davis home, he immediately called the firemen. Benson said the explosions occurred when the flames ignited ammunition for Dr. Davis' rifles and shotguns, which were stored in the

The couple had left their home shortly before 6 P. M.

JUST for the RECORD . . .

Read it and weep! Howard Cotter told us the other night that he read in an old copy of Our Town that a Narberth developer "way back when" offered $25 bonus to anyone who gave him the name of a prospective home-buyer and followed it up with a $100 bonus if the prospect actually bought.

What Borough official hangs a little hood over any parking meter that happens to be in the way when he wants to park his car in the Narberth business section? Doubtless his official status gives him a perfect legal right to do so, but it doesn't set very well with some of the folks who don't think much of parking meters anyway.

There's a king-size thank-you due Fred Dannenhauer and Adon Horsley for the contributions they're making to Narberth's Christmas gaiety. Dannenhauer is contributing the amplifiers and records for the broadcasting of Christmas music and Horsley has offered to pay for the big Santa figures that will be set up beside the bell towers.

We wonder if anyone has ever asked the Pennsylvania Railroad to contribute toward the Borough's Christmas decorations? The lights and greens will stop on each side of Station Circle and it seems a shame. Wouldn't it be nice if the PRR would chip in so that a bit of the Borough's Christmas sparkle could gleam through the train windows to say Merry Christmas to travelers as they speed through the night?

We understand that the house now on the property which was purchased by Borough Council this week was originally the home of Narberth's first Burgess, August H. Mueller. Mr. Mueller served as Burgess from 1895 to 1897.

It's nice to see that Borough Council officials didn't waste any time getting the construction of the safety devices at the Wynnewood Ave. railroad underpass started.

The devices were installed to provide greater traffic safety at a very dangerous intersection.

M-L Playhouse Lists Future Productions

Forthcoming productions of the Main Line Playhouse will include "The Two Mrs. Carrills," "The Great Big Doorstep," "Night Must Fall" and "The Highland Fling."

The group's first production of the 1948-49 season, "The Philadelphia Story," will be staged Saturday evening, October 30, at 8:30 P. M., at Lower Merion High School.

In announcing plans for the year, President Robert H. Teter said that it is hoped that "this year will surpass the high level of little theater achieved last year. Casts will include," he said, "many names well known to Philadelphians as well as some brand new ones fresh from the better known stock companies."

NOTES

At last we feel safe to say that the October edition of the Sun Dial is on its way to the printers, and will come out in the early part of the week. It was a hard task getting it together and also getting the subscriptions. We think we made out very well and will try to keep it that way.

Another activity that turned to Narberth's favor this week was the football game with Abington, October 20. Narberth won the game 13 to 7.

Girls' hockey was again won by the Gray team over the Reds, 2 to 0. The next games will be October 25 and 26. Come on, girls, get in there and fight.

The sports of Narberth School aren't the only activities making progress. The Library Club has catalogued quite a few new books and the books are now ready to be taken out of the Library. The club is now planning a play which will be given in assembly hall Friday during Book Week. It is called, "On the Shelf." We know it will be a smashing hit.

Narberth School was very fortunate to have Harry Gross and Glen Turkelson, Lower Merion Township detectives, come to speak on crime prevention and identification. They spoke in assembly October 22. We enjoyed the program very much and many students learned a lot from the detectives' talks.

Narberth Pastor Named Head of Church Group

Rev. R. G. Middleton Elected at Meeting Of M. L. Federation

The Rev. Robert G. Middleton, pastor of the Baptist Church of the Evangel of Narberth, was elected president of the Main Line Federation of Churches at the annual meeting of the organization held Tuesday night at the Ardmore Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Middleton, a member of the Federation for four years, served as vice-president last year. He has been pastor of the Narberth Church for four years. He succeeds Dr. B. L. Scott of the Lower Merion Baptist Church.

Other officers named at the meeting are: The Rev. Merlin F. Rood, assistant pastor of the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church, vice-president; the Rev. Clinton K. Cherry, Ardmore Methodist Church, vice-president; Curtis L. Clay, of Ardmore, secretary, and Robert M. Girvin, 3rd, treasurer.

Three trustees, also named at the meeting, included: Ralph Davenport, of Ardmore; Dr. Howard Wayne Smith, of Ardmore, and William H. J. Manthorpe, of Ardmore Park.

Mrs. Curtis Bok, guest speaker of the evening, spoke on "Eyes, Ears and Wishes."

Car Inspection Plans Revealed

Station Proprietors Get Pointers From S. Police

Proprietors of automobile inspection stations in Bala-Cynwyd and Narberth met last Monday night at John Koegler's garage, Bala-Cynwyd, to make plans for the next inspection period which starts November 1.

Officer Dennis Hogan, of the State Police Barracks at Collegeville, praised the work of the inspection stations in this area and the cooperation of the Lower Merion Township police. He said that the inspection sticker racket has been greatly reduced since the reputable garages throughout Montgomery County have banded together to improve inspection service.

He also pointed out that accidental deaths of persons killed by exhaust fumes in closed cars would, in nearly every case, have been avoided if proper inspection of the cars had been made.

Car owners in this area were urged to take their cars in early for inspection, as a protection against the hazards of winter driving and to give themselves time to have a thorough job done if repairs are required.

Pair Injured In Store Fire

Workers Hurt When Cleaning Fluid Ignites

Two men were still in a serious condition at the Bryn Mawr Hospital today as a result of first, second and third degree burns suffered when the cleaning fluid they were using ignited Saturday night in the Strawbridge and Clothier Men's Annex, Suburban Square, Ardmore.

The men are Earl Boyer, 21, of 3324 S. Garnet St., Phila., and James Fernandez, 19, of 5314 S. Garnet St., Phila. Both are employed by a contractor to clear the Strawbridge and Clothier Store by night. According to Boyer's father, Leon, who also works with them, they were cleaning a strip of linoleum about 10:30 P. M., using cleaning fluid and steel wool, when they apparently hit a nail-head. The sparks caught onto Boyer's clothing, and he ran to the front of the store.

Fernandez ran to his aid, and the two men rolled on the floor, attempting to beat out the flames. The elder Boyer kicked the glass out of the front door of the store and ran to the street, calling to passers-by for aid.

In the meantime the store's fire alarm had been rung, setting off Friday during Book Week. It is called, "On the Shelf." We know it will be a smashing hit.

'Christmas Town' Planned in Narberth

Business Area To Have Lights And Bell Towers

Plan Letter Boxes So Children Can Send Letters to Santa

Narberth is going to be Christmas town this year from one end of the main business district to the other.

The Narberth Business Council spent a long, busy evening Monday making plans for it.

There'll be lights and laurel and bell-towers.

There'll be mail-boxes, just the right height for young letter-writers to drop in those all-important memos to Santa.

And, of course, there'll be the familiar and beloved songs and carols lilting through the December air over hidden amplifiers.

The lights, twinkling through ropes of green laurel, will stretch from the bank corner, at Essex and Haverford Aves., to the corner of Haverford and Narberth Aves. and up and down Narberth Ave. from the railroad bridge to Durbin and Howard's office and the theater.

The decorations will be in place by December 6.

At the corner of Forrest and Haverford and at the corner of Haverford and Haverford, there will be bell-towers, as there were last year, and beside each tower will be a Santa Claus of traditional jollity and chubbiness (even though he'll be made of wood and cardboard). Next to the Santas will be the Christmas-letter mailboxes.

To cover the cost of the decorations, Business Council will assess each member in the lighted area $10, it was decided.

At the Council meeting, President Roger Burke appointed a nominating-committee of five to present names for next year's officers at the next meeting, which will be held November 15.

The nominating committee is headed by Adon Horsley and includes Sterling Bermender, Frank Tinker, John Miller and Cele Conway.

Also at the November 15 meeting, Ralph Dunne's committee will report on the replies received from the questionnaires sent out to determine what's right—or wrong—with Narberth's shopping facilities. More than half of the questionnaires have been returned to date.

Howard Cotter, speaking for a committee of Business Council members who attended the last executive session of the Narberth Borough Council in an effort to get action on the local parking problem, reported little success. Details of the meeting will be published in Our Town next week.

The merchants, most of them from the central business section of Narberth, extended a hearty welcome to Mario Casavecchia, beauty shop proprietor, who attended the meeting as a representative of the merchants on Woodbine Ave. He cited the large number of children in that section of the Borough and asked that next year it be included in plans for Christmas decorations. Casavecchia was urged to invite other Woodbine Ave. businessmen to participate in Business Council activities and assured that the section might work out a partial Christmas decoration plan even this year.

Samaritan Act Costs Man $102

Chauffeur Is Held Up When He Offers Aid

A good Samaritan act by a Bryn Mawr man cost him $102 Friday night.

Ulysses Bryant, 35, chauffeur for John A. Stevenson, County Club and Conshohocken State Rds., Bryn Mawr, president of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co., was the victim.

Bryant was driving on Conshohocken State Rd. west of Hagys Ford Rd., Penn Valley, when a woman in a car parked at the side of the road signaled for him to stop, and told him something was wrong with her car. Bryant approached the hood of the car, which had been raised, and was about to light a match when two men appeared out of the darkness and said: "This is a stick-up."

One man held his hand in his pocket as though he held a gun. The other rifled Bryant's pockets, taking $102 from his wallet. He then ordered him to drive on.

Bryant described the woman as about 24 years old and attractive. She was dressed in a maroon coat with a fur neckpiece.

In addition to balloting for Presidential candidates the voters will elect a Representative in Congress, State Treasurer, Auditor General and five Representatives in the General Assembly.

The ballot this year will contain the names of seven political parties, each having candidates for President and Vice-President, as follows:

For Auditor General: Weldon B. Heyburn, Rep.; Ramsey S. Black, Dem.; Charles Palmer, Pro.; Frank Kozick, Ind. Govt.; Hans Peters, Socialist.

Assembly candidates for the First District are: Lambert Caldwell, Rep.; Emily L. Ehle, Dem.

C. Peters, Foster C. Hillegass and Raymond K. Mensch, who compose the Montgomery County Election Board, call attention to the fact that at each election some ballots are voided by lack of understanding of the election laws. To insure electors that their ballots will not be cast in vain the Board has issued instructions as follows:

In voting the elector must use either lead pencil or indelible pencil. Ballots marked in ink cannot be counted.

A cross mark (x) in the square opposite the name of any candidate indicates a vote for that candidate.

To vote a straight party ticket, mark a cross (x) in the square, in the party column, opposite the name of the party of your choice.

Erasures are not permitted. In the event a ballot is spoiled by failure to properly mark it such ballot is to be returned to the local board and another will be supplied. Only the cross mark (x) may be used in voting.

It is particularly important to note that any ballot deposited in a ballot box without having the perforated corner containing the number torn off shall be void and cannot be counted.

AUTO FIRE EXTINGUISHED

Narberth firemen extinguished an automobile fire within 20 minutes Tuesday afternoon. Owned by Paul E. Fink, of Highland Park Ave., near Maple Ave., when the car was parked on Woodside, wires short circuited, according to James Mullin, Assistant Fire Marshal for Lower Merion Township.

Narberth Borough Council met in a surprise special session Saturday morning and voted to buy the house and lot at 115-117 Forrest Ave. for $20,000.

The property will be used, Council announced afterward, for a "new Borough office, a firehouse, an auditorium or a municipal parking lot."

A spokesman explained that the decision to purchase the property followed a report by a special Council committee appointed to negotiate with the present owners. These negotiations, he added, have been going on since last Spring. There has been no discussion of the proposed purchase, however, at any public meeting of the Borough Council.

Reason for the special meeting, called by Walter A. Fox, president, the spokesman said, was that a price agreement had been reached and Council wanted to complete the negotiations without further delay.

Members of the special committee, Sterling M. Chain, chairman, Fox, and Henry A. Frye, have asked for a joint meeting with the Narberth Planning Commission to discuss the preparation of plans for the property.

In a letter addressed to Bertine G. Simpson, chairman of the Narberth Planning Commission, Chain stated:

"I have been instructed to request the Planning Commission's consideration of promptly preparing plans for improved Borough facilities to be based on surveys which Council had previously discussed with you. Perhaps another joint meeting should be held without delay, and our suggestion would be Friday evening, November 5, in the Council chambers if you agree."

"We believe we can make funds available for any necessary immediate expenditure needed by the Planning Commission."

The survey referred to in Chain's letter will be made by the Planning Commission to determine the most immediate need of the Borough.

The property, which measures 150 feet by 125 feet, includes a 57-year-old house. Before it could be put to any use whatsoever, the building would have to be demolished and the land graded, necessitating additional expenditures by Council.

The $20,000 payment will be met by Council through a Councilmanic bond issue, an action which does not require the approval of Borough voters.

At the present time, the Borough's total unused borrowing capacity is now $348,798 and the bonded indebtedness is $65,000, of which $5,000 will be paid off next month.

In a statement released by Council, it was pointed out that "the necessity for improvement of Borough facilities in several departments has long been recognized by Council and the acquisition of this property will permit planning for the future requirements of the Borough."

Chain stated this week that the development of the property would depend entirely on the results of the Planning Commission's survey and public opinion, but he also stated that the Borough has recently completed a survey of the parking situation in the Borough which showed that there is plenty of parking space available.

Several appraisals of the property were made at the request of Council and all set its value near the $20,000 figure. Our Town was told.

Present owners of the property are Robert A. Mueller, Mrs. Marguerite M. Dickie, Mrs. John A. Mower, Jr., and Miss Florentina May Mueller. Mrs. Dickie, and Miss Mueller are now living in the house. Possession of the house for a 90-day period was granted them by Council.

Chain stated that if any action was taken at all by Council following the examination of the results of the Planning Commission's survey, it would not be taken until the early part of next year.
